

Lesson II for the Easter Vigil

Tonus Prophétiae

I -n di-ébus illis: Factum est in vigí-li-a matutína, et ecce, respí-ci-ens

Dóminus super castra Ægypti-órum per colúmnam ignis, et nubis, interfécit exércitum e-órum: et subvértit rotas cúrru-um, ferebantúrque in profúndum. Dixérunt ergo Ægýpti-i: « Fugi-ámus Isra-é-lem: Dóminus enim pugnat pro e-is contra nos ». Et a-it Dóminus ad Mó-ysen: « Exténde ma-num tu-am super mare, ut revertántur aquæ ad Ægýpti-os super currus, et équi-tes e-ó-rum ». Cumque extendísset Mó-yses manum contra mare, revérsus est primo di-lúculo ad pri-órem locum: fugi-entibúsque Ægýpti-is occurrérunt aquæ, et invólvit e-os Dóminus in médi-is flúctibus.

Reversæque sunt aquæ, et operu-érunt currus, et équi-tes cuncti exércitus

Phara-ónis, qui sequéntes ingrèssi fú-erant mare: nec unus quidem supérfu-it ex e-is. Fí-li-i autem Isra-ël perrexérunt per médi-um sicci maris, et aquæ e-is erant quasi pro muro a dextris et a sinístris:

liberavítque Dóminus in di-e illa Isra-ël de manu Ægypti-ó-rum. Et vidérunt Ægýpti-os mórtu-os super littus maris, et manum magnam, quam exercú-erat Dóminus contra e-os: timu-ítque pópulus Dóminum, et credidérunt Dómino, et Mó-ysi servo e-jus. Tunc cécinít Mó-yses,
