Updated List of Tridentine Masses in the Region

In 2003, the only option for attending a diocesan-approved Tridentine Mass in our region was the Sunday Mass held at a side altar of Windsor's former Villa Maria Nursing Home [pictured]. When the SARS epidemic resulted in the nursing home requiring the faithful to be sprayed down with disinfectant and sign a waiver form before entering the building, attendance plummeted to a diehard 10 people. That was the low point. Just 13 years later, we now enjoy 21 sites in metro Detroit and Windsor – four debuting this fall alone – which offer Holy Masses in the Extraordinary Form on a regular or semi-regular basis. If you have additional information or corrections, kindly e-mail the address at the bottom of this column, and we will publish the updates. St. Stephen, New Boston, may still hold occasional Masses, but they are not published on any available schedule.
