OCLMA Assumption Day Mass to Be Held at the Academy of the Sacred Heart Chapel

Everything old is new again: On Monday, August 15, the Academy of the Sacred Heart Chapel in Bloomfield Hills will once again host the Traditional Mass, as the Oakland County Latin Mass Association returns there for a 7:00 PM High Mass for the Feast of the Assumption, to be celebrated by Fr. Derik Peterman. Sunday OCLMA Masses remain at Orchard Lake. Because of a new weekday evening Novus Ordo Mass at Orchard Lake, however, future OCLMA weekday Masses will need to be at the Academy or other sites.

The Academy chapel has a High Altar, Communion Rail, pipe organ, choir loft, and air conditioning, making it a fine location for the Tridentine Mass. It was the home of the OCLMA's Sunday Mass from 2014-2020, until Covid shut down the school.

Jubiláte Deo: Paul VI's Booklet of Gregorian Chants to be Known by the Faithful

With all the recent talk about what Vatican II and its immediate aftermath actually called for in the Sacred Liturgy, one little booklet deserves mention: In 1974 Pope St. Paul VI ordered the publication of Jubiláte Deo, a collection of Gregorian Chants that he wanted all Catholics to know. The chants in the booklet include Kyrie XVI, Gloria VIII, Credo III, Sanctus XVIII, the Pater Noster, Agnus Dei XVIII, and a small collection of hymns including O Salutáris, Tantum Ergo, Adóro Te Devóte, and Salve Regina.

While the immediate impact of that booklet was minimal...most Catholics didn't and still don't know of its existence...today one does hear many of these selections with some regularity. Perhaps we should credit EWTN for spreading their popularity by repeatedly using these pieces in its televised daily Masses.

The booklet has not been forgotten. As recently as January, 2016, Marquette, Michigan Bishop John Doerfler issued Sing to the Lord, All the Earth! An Instruction on Sacred Music in Divine Worship, in which His Excellency directs that, by December 31, 2020, "All parishes and schools will learn to chant the [Latin] Kyrie, Sanctus, and Agnus Dei from the Missa Jubiláte Deo, and they will be sung by the congregation some of the time throughout the year."

Jubiláte Deo is still in print, available for $1.75 from GIA Publications [the former Gregorian Institute of America] at: <https://www.giamusic.com/store/resource/jubiláte-deo-print-g1909>. An organ accompaniment edition is also available.

Somonauk, Illinois Priest Training Report

Congratulations to Fr. Kevin Butler, Pastor of St. John the Baptist Church in Somonauk, Illinois, who celebrated his first Traditional Latin Mass on Tuesday, July 26, 2022, after training from Extraordinary Faith. Fr. Butler restored this historic church, located in a southwestern exurb of Chicago (Diocese of Rockford), from a bland modernized look back to its original Gothic appearance, including a new High Altar. A parishioner returned the original historic ornate altar card set that was saved from being discarded during the modernization. Fr.

Butler also started a schola that sings Gregorian Chant for the parish's Novus Ordo Masses. It will be up to the Bishop of Rockford to decide whether the TLM can be offered in the parish going forward.
