April 23, 2023 – Second Sunday After Easter

Br. Elijah DeLello, FHS Ordained Deacon

Last Saturday, April 15, Br. Elijah DeLello of the Franciscans of the Holy Spirit was ordained a transitional deacon by Bishop Robert Fisher at Sacred Heart Major Seminary. One of the apostolates of Br. Elijah [center in photo by the Detroit Catholic] and his Franciscan confreres is offering the Traditional Latin Mass, both locally at the parish they administer, St. Mary of Redford, and in Phoenix, Arizona at their parishes on the Native American Reservations. We hope to see Deacon Elijah serving as Deacon at Solemn High Masses in metro Detroit over the upcoming months.

Ann Arbor Tenebrae Attendance

Ann Arbor's St. Thomas the Apostle Parish continues to set attendance records. With Sunday 11:30 AM Tridentine Masses typically attracting 300-450 faithful, in some ways it's not a surprise to learn that their recently held Tenebrae service on Wednesday evening, April 5 attracted over 200 faithful, far more than anticipated. Congratulations to Ann Arbor Latin Mass organizer Joe Lipa for instituting, organizing, and promoting this event, which he announced will become a new annual tradition.

Sacred Music Symposium

One more Latin Mass-centric conference can be added to the list published in last week's column: The Sacred Music Symposium, held each year in the greater Los Angeles area, will be held Monday-Friday, June 19-23, 2023 at St. John the Baptist Parish in Costa Mesa, California. St. John the Baptist, staffed by priests of the Norbertine order, has long offered Tridentine Masses. The event is coordinated by Corpus Christi Watershed / FSSP Los Angeles music director Jeff Ostrowski, with assistance from intrepid Las Vegas Latin Mass coordinator and choir director Andrea Leal.

Unfortunately this event is being held on the same days – and with much the same purpose – as the Church Music Association of America's Sacred Music Colloquium here in Detroit, so we do not expect many readers of this column to choose to attend the Symposium. Nonetheless, for more information, please visit:

Orémus: Latin Prayers for Young Catholics

TAN Books has published a new book by Katie Warner, Orémus: Latin Prayers for Young Catholics, which, as its title indicates, is a collection of essential Latin prayers that children can learn, to become familiar with the Church's treasury of prayers. A November 20, 2022 article in National Catholic Register by Katie, "4 Ways to Teach Your Children Latin," provides insight into her reasons for preparing the book, as well as links to TAN's page for the book and the author's own web site:
