Fons et Culmen Sacred Liturgy Summit in San Francisco

Join us at the Summit!

Fons et Culmen Sacred Liturgy Summit gathers together Catholics who love Christ, the Church, and the Church's sacred liturgical tradition for:

- the solemn celebration of the Mass and Vespers;
- insightful talks on the sacred liturgy, liturgical formation, and the sacred liturgical arts;
- and fellowship to build fraternal bonds through which the clergy, religious, and lay faithful can support the Church and one another in their promotion of the sacred liturgy.

As the weather warms up, conference season is once again upon us. Three major Latin Mass-centric conferences stand out this summer. First is Fons et Culmen Sacred Liturgy Summit, to be held Tuesday – Friday, July 1-4, 2025 at St. Patrick Seminary in Menlo Park, California, near San Francisco. This is the successor event to the Sacra Liturgia conferences that previously had been held around the world. As with those conferences, Fons et Culmen, sponsored and encouraged by Archbishop Salvatore Cordileone, is noted for attracting several high-profile speakers. In their own words:

The Sacred Liturgy Conference, typically held in the Pacific Northwest, this year will take place at Queen of the Holy Rosary Dominican Parish in Portland, Oregon Tuesday – Friday, June 24-27. Always well attended, with a handful of guests from Michigan, this convention tends to be oriented towards developing one's spiritual life and academic understanding of the liturgy.

Church Music Association of America's Sacred Music Colloquium in St. Paul, Minnesota

Readers will recall that the Church Music Association held its annual Sacred Music Colloquium in Detroit in the summer of 2023. This year the event will be held Monday – Saturday, June 23-28 in St. Paul, Minnesota at the University of St. Thomas. This is the world's premiere event for singers and musicians looking for a week-long intensive to improve their skills, with a side emphasis on networking and fellowship. More information at: <https://churchmusicassociation.org/colloquium-2025/>

All of these events are spiritually uplifting and an excellent opportunity to share one's love for beautiful liturgy and sacred music with like-minded individuals from across the globe.

Tridentine Masses This Coming Week

Fri. 04/04 7:00 PM: High Mass at Old St. Mary's (Friday in the Fourth Week in Lent) – Celebrant: Fr. Thai Nguyen. The choir will sing Gregorian Mass XVIII, and the Communion Motet will be Miserere by Gregorio Allegri.
