Requiem Candlesticks Restored

This column has made mention previously of the remarkable metallic restoration services done for our local TLM sites by Zach of Swiss Polishing in White Lake, Michigan. About a year ago, the Oakland County Latin Mass Association was gifted a set of six requiem candlesticks, meant to be placed alongside a casket or a catafalque. These candlesticks were in terrible condition, however, scratched and with damaged and tarnished metal. After a few weeks in Zach's capable hands, however, they turned out, dare we say it, even better than new. Tall 100% beeswax candles and nickel followers have been ordered to make this set fully functional for the Traditional Mass.

Historic Photo of Philadelphia Boys' Choir

On December 24, 2019 the web site CatholicPhilly.com published the below photo from 1941 of the 100 member boys' choir at the since-closed Immaculate Conception Parish in the East Germantown neighborhood of Philadelphia. Not even the handful of parishes in the world today with choir schools can boast of that many young voices in their scholas.

San Francisco Priest Training Report #10

Our tenth priest training report from San Francisco:

Congratulations to Fr. Martin Njoalu, V.C., Parochial Vicar of St. Rita Church in Fairfax, California, who celebrated his first Traditional Latin Mass at Star of the Sea Chapel in San Francisco on Wednesday, March 11, 2026, after training from Extraordinary Faith. Fr. Martin stated that offering his first TLM was a “life-changing experience” that fits in with his longstanding commitment to reverent liturgy. Special thanks to San Francisco TLM promoter Corinna Gamez, at right in photo, for organizing the training.
